SCENARIO 1 | ONE ARMED GUARD TO ESCORT A PRINCIPAL

Purpose: Ideal for principals who already have their own transportation but desire a single armed security professional to ensure safety.

Typical Usage: Day-to-day personal protection around the city, high-profile events, or other engagements.

Key Details

1. Armed Presence

- The guard will be openly armed (depending on local regulations) and remain in close proximity to the principal.
- Having an armed guard can be a double-edged sword: it may provide enhanced deterrence and ensure venue staff take security concerns seriously, but it can also draw additional attention to the principal.

2. Venue Restrictions

Many high-profile venues (e.g., concert halls, certain corporate buildings) or organizers may prohibit firearms. If a firearm is not allowed inside, the escort must remain outside or store the weapon elsewhere (see "Gun Custodian" details in the Disclaimers & Additional Notes section).

3. Service Interruptions

If the principal requires constant coverage inside a weapons-restricted venue, there may be interruptions in protection unless alternate arrangements (e.g., unarmed coverage, gun custodian) are made in advance.

SCENARIO 2 | ONE ARMED GUARD AND ONE UNARMED GUARD

Purpose: For principals who want the deterrent of an armed guard but also the flexibility of a second unarmed guard who can follow them into virtually any setting.

Typical Usage: Corporate meetings, social events, restaurants, malls, and other environments where it may be beneficial to have at least one guard who can enter venues where weapons are not permitted.

Key Details

1. Escorts Everywhere

- Both guards accompany the principal unless otherwise instructed.
- The unarmed guard can typically enter any venue without issue, while the armed guard may need to comply with specific venue restrictions.

2. Visual Deterrence

- An unarmed guard with a strong physical presence can still serve as a deterrent.
- Having an armed guard on the team can be an additional layer of defense if a situation escalates.

3. Venue Restrictions

- If the armed guard is not permitted inside, they must stay outside or store the weapon per venue requirements.
- The unarmed guard can continue coverage inside without interruption.

SCENARIO 3 | VEHICLE & DRIVER + TWO SECURITY PERSONNEL (ARMED OR MIXED)

Purpose: Provides a dedicated vehicle and professional driver, plus two security professionals (either both armed, both unarmed, or one armed and one unarmed).

Typical Usage: Urban travel with the ability to conduct “tactical tail” procedures, secure parking, and manage potential threats on the move.

Key Details

1. Dedicated Vehicle & Professional Driver

- The driver is focused solely on navigation, traffic management, and ensuring the principal's car is positioned optimally for secure exits and entrances.

2. “Tactical Tail” Support

- A tail car (if multiple vehicles are used) can block traffic for quick getaways, scout potential threats, and allow for discreet changes of vehicle if the principal's car is “made” or compromised.
- The driver and security team can coordinate to swap vehicles or reroute to avoid surveillance.

3. Flexibility in Security Personnel

- Choose any combination of armed or unarmed guards: two armed, two unarmed, or one of each.
- This scenario is well-suited for higher-risk principals or those who anticipate complicated logistics.

SCENARIO 4 | COORDINATOR + VEHICLE & DRIVER + TWO ARMED PERSONNEL

Purpose: Top-tier service for clients requiring intensive coordination, active oversight of the protective detail, and robust security measures.

Typical Usage: High-profile principals with complex schedules, multiple stops, or potential high-threat environments. Large corporate events, government officials, celebrities, and VIPs often benefit from a dedicated coordinator.

Key Details

1. Supervisor/Coordinator

- Manages the entire security detail, including movement logistics, itinerary updates, route changes, and administrative tasks (e.g., parking reservations, verifying if weapons are permissible).
- Acts as a “gun custodian” when venues prohibit weapons, ensuring a smooth transition and minimal coverage gaps.
- Communicates constantly with the guards, driver, and principal to ensure seamless operations.

2. Vehicle & Driver

- Same features as Scenario 3: includes advanced driving techniques, traffic control, and safe arrival/departure tactics.

3. Flexibility in Security Personnel

- Principal receives maximum protective coverage with two armed escorts.
- One guard can remain close to the principal at all times while the other handles perimeter security or advanced checks.

DISCLAIMERS & ADDITIONAL NOTES

1. Weapon Restrictions

- Armed escorts cannot bring firearms into bars, nightclubs, concert venues, casinos/gambling halls, airports, government/public buildings, or any other restricted location indicated in advance.
- If such visits are unavoidable, a gun custodian can be added at an hourly rate to store the weapon outside the venue, ensuring no gaps in unarmed coverage.

2. Principal Instructions & Escort Authority

- An escort's primary responsibility is to protect the principal. They may instruct the principal on when to exit vehicles, where to sit, how to adjust behavior for safety, etc.
- The escort may refuse orders that jeopardize the principal's safety.
- Solo Coverage: If there is only one guard, they will remain within arm's reach of the principal at all times, regardless of the principal's personal preference.

3. Protocol for Emergencies

- Both parties should be aware in advance that the guard(s) may swiftly move the principal away from danger, sometimes without prior warning or comfort. Cooperation is key to ensuring safety.

4. Itinerary Planning

- A detailed itinerary allows the EPS team to research potential threats, population density, demographics, and navigation routes.
- Adhering to a well-planned schedule enhances security and minimizes unexpected risks.

5. Constant Communication

- Principals are expected to maintain frequent contact with their escorts (via encrypted text, radio, beeper, or other secure methods).
- Rapid information exchange is often critical to circumvent emerging threats.

Summary

- Scenario 1 (One Armed Guard): For clients with their own vehicles who want a visible armed presence.
- Scenario 2 (One Armed + One Unarmed): Balances high deterrence and accessibility; the unarmed guard can enter more venues freely.
